Council Have Busy Session

Coleman council were met by an out-of-town party at council meeting April 11th, who expressed his interest at taking over an ambulance service to cater to the Crows Nest Pass towns.

A meeting of Pass councils and the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board is to be organized to discuss the matter.

Sister Leo Agnes of the Pincher Creek Crows Nest Pass Family Service Bureau was present, and gave an enlightening talk on Preventive Welfare Service that is presently being instituted in the Pass. Sister Leo Agnes recommended that the local towns support this worthy organization.

Council agreed to give full support to the group.

Steps were taken by council to eliminate a number of nuisance problems in town. The secretary will serve notice on the parties responsible for the nuisances, and following the 30-day notice if action is not taken, the town will remove the nuisance and the owner will be charged costs. The nuisances include a number of unsightly buildings around town, abandoned car wrecks and other objects.

April 27th was the date set for the Court of Revision and assessor will be Harry Randema of the Provincial Assessment Branch from Lethbridge.

Members of the Court will comprise Mayor John Holyk, Councillors Mel Cornett, Vic Kryzwski, Fred MacLeod and Ted Kryczka, and Secretary R. Jensen, clerk.

Councillor Mel Cornett, who is a member of the Library Board, gave a report on the functions of the library during the past year. Council approved a grant of $400 to the library.

A grant of $100 was also approved for the Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade to aid the unit in organizing the annual Hose Coupling Competitions in Coleman on July 1st.

Three by-laws were passed and include one to amend the present traffic by-law so as to provide authority for the town to remove vehicles that are illegally parked and then charge the owner for the towing. This action is sometimes necessary during snow removal or at fires.

The second by-law allows for a discount for prompt payment of taxes. The discount provides for 10 per cent of the current levy up to 30 days of mailing and for five per cent from 30 to 60 days of mailing.

The third by-law provided for the cancellation of a number of tax arrears and for some arrears on properties now acquired by the town.

A fourth by-law for the setting of sewer rates had its second reading.

A letter of sympathy was received from the City of Kimberley, B. C., regarding the three Coleman mine workers who lost their lives in the recent Natal North Balmer mine accident.

Approval was given for the purchase of a new ripper unit for the town's new grader for road work that is to be done this summer.

As a Centennial move council are doing their utmost to tear down unsightly buildings owned by the town, paint up various buildings and do general repair work on town-owned properties so as to set an example for the citizens.

At present the "Old Lombardy Building" is slated to be demolished and when torn down the lots will be levelled and gravelled.

The town's storage yards south of main street have been levelled, gravelled and fenced and many other projects are slated for the coming months.

Fish & Game Hear Convention Report

Jim Kerr, Fish and Game delegate to the recent Alberta Fish and Game convention in Edmonton, reported that the Fishing Resolution tendered by the Coleman group some time ago, was being revived.

The resolution provides for the closing of all streams in the Old Man River watershed from October 15 to June 15. The matter is being directed to the head office of the Wildlife and Fisheries Departments for action.

Mr. Kerr also reported that construction of another fish hatchery is in the offing and will be built in the southern part of the province.

The club will attempt to have Glacier Creek diverted back to its original course so that waters from this stream flow into Island Lake instead of directly into Crows Nest Lake. This diversion would ensure a steady supply of incoming fresh water into the lake. The creek was diverted from its original course sometime ago during construction of the new link of highway.

Attempts will also be made by the Association to have ID 10 build an approach on the south side of the highway at Island Lake so that docking facilities can be set up for boats.

Members agreed that the club should hold several fishing derbies during the summer months on Sundays and these events should coincide with a social evening.

The Association is distributing posters and literature to local schools in the Crows Nest Pass in recognition of National Wildlife Week—which is from April 9 to 15.

The club members were advised that they were now covered by insurance to amount up to $100,000 for public liability and property damage.

The Association decided to hold the annual trophy night earlier in the year in order that local scores can be entered in the Edmonton provincial competitions.

Member Ted Michalski reported that considerable work has to be done at the new dam site project being undertaken by the club.

Work on this project will start as soon as access roads to the area are open and free of snow. Volunteers will be welcomed to aid with this project.

The trophy, donated to the local club by the Bowthorpe family of Roundhouse, Alberta, will be given to the club member who sells the most memberships.

Oratio Ceili reported that the Association now has a membership of 111 and that new cards can be obtained at his store.

Meeting nights will now be the first Monday of each month.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

The Auction Sale

This afternoon, a relative from Vancouver brought two little girls to visit Greenhorn Farm. These 8-year-olds love any animal that walks and breathes, so I took them with me to the auction sale in nearby Cloverdale, and witnessed a love affair.

Ruth-Mary and Mary Anne did the rounds of the auction like small whirlwinds, until they came to a cage containing two small Silkies - a bantam-like chicken with silky, cream feathers. There the girls stopped, oh-ing and ah-ing and admiring. When the auctioneer reached that cage, the girls didn't move until at last he said, "Girles - if you don't move back I might sell you by mistake." They jumped clear and little Ruth-Mary said, "Gee, would he really sell us?"

Bidding on the Silkies started at 25 cents a bird. I bumped to 35 cents, and it went up from there until finally, at 90 cents, the auctioneer said, "Soold . . . to the man with the two pretty girls!"

They danced and laughed and insisted we go right home so they could play with the Silkies. "The birds are yours," I told them, "and you must visit us often so you can take care of them."

Never in my life have I bought anyone so much happiness for so little money; but now I am not sure that I got off so very lightly, for when it came time for the girls to return to Vancouver, Mary-Anne had tears in her eyes. "What if they get sick?" she moaned. "What if they get sick and-and-and die?"

"Ah, we don't have to worry," little Ruth-Mary assured her confidently. "My Uncle Ambrose just wouldn't let them die! Would you, Uncle Ambrose?"

"I'll take good care of them," I promised, but it worried me. Birds do sicken and die quite easily, and here I am, saddled with full responsibility, completely trusted by two pretty little girls.

Now I have a faint idea how God must feel when a youngster puts some loved one in His care!

Hospital Workers Reach Centennial Goal

EDMONTON - A group of Alberta hospital workers have reached their Centennial goal; a minimum hourly wage of $1.25. The workers are members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) and the goal was set at a bargaining conference of the union, held in Calgary last October.

The conference was followed by intensive negotiations between the Canadian Union of Public Employees and eight hospitals in northern Alberta, culminating in an agreement covering 500 non-professional hospital workers. The eight hospitals are - St. John's Hospital in Edson, Peace River Municipal and Auxiliary, Wetaskiwin Municipal and Auxiliary, Good Samaritan Hospital and St. Josephs Hospital, the latter two in Edmonton.

The union's negotiating team was headed by CUPE Representative Leo Lancaster and R. J. Noble, both of Edmonton. Mr. Lancaster, who announced details of the two-year collective agreements today (Monday) said that the settlement may well lead to a new Alberta minimum for all workers in the province, including hospital workers from other unions.

Monthly starting rates of pay for males in all eight hospitals climb from $175 to $205, effective January 1, 1967, and to $216 July 1, 1967. This represents $1.25 per hour and is an increase of $43 per month in the first year of the agreement. On January 1st, 1968, these rates will increase by an additional $12, to $228. Top rate for males will be $260 after January 1, 1969.

Other gains include three weeks vacation after 3 years service - formerly 8 years - and four weeks after 15 years. The employer will now pay one-half of the MSI - Medical Insurance - premium.

Two other Alberta hospitals have also signed agreements with the CUPE, implementing the $1.25 hourly minimum effective January 1st. They are: Crows Nest Pass Municipal at Blairmore and Drumheller General.

CUPE Representative R. J. Noble pointed out that Alberta is the fourth province to attain the $1.25 minimum hospital wage. Other provinces are British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Quebec. New Brunswick is very close to reaching it.

To Increase Interest Rates

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce will increase the interest it pays on regular savings accounts to 3½ per cent on May 1.

"The new rate will apply to all regular savings accounts with normal chequing privileges presently enjoyed by the Bank's customers," said Mr. L. G. Greenwood, Chief General Manager.

The increase from 3 per cent to 3½ per cent is the first change in the interest rate on regular savings accounts in almost five years.

"This increase has been made possible by revisions in the Bank Act that have eased some of the restrictions that limited the Bank's activities in the past," Mr. Greenwood said.

Last week the Bank announced that it also would introduce a new type of saving account, without chequing privileges, on which depositors will be paid 4 per cent interest.

He succeeds Guy W. Goodman, who has been serving as temporary Superintendent of ANG since

May 1, 1966. After a vacation, Goodman will resume his regular assignment as Superintendent of Pacific Gas Transmission Company's Southern Area, with headquarters at Redmond, Oregon.

The Homemaker

(Miss Patricia L. Peters, District Home Economist, Box 40, Claresholm, Alberta. Phone 228-3822.

Cardston, Phone 629-3402. Pincher Creek, Phone 637-3130 or 637-4022.)

Every homemaker today seems to be concerned with the rising cost of food. Many wonder about the economy of such products as skim milk or powdered skim milk and their relative food value.

Skim milk or skim milk powder are not substitutes for milk; they ARE milk. The powder is made from fresh pasteurized milk from which only the fat and water are removed. Because the fat has been removed Vitamin A which is fat soluble is also removed. However, it is in almost all cases replaced by the manufacturer and this is stated on the package. Thus skim milk products have all the nourishment of fresh skim milk, including the vitamins and minerals necessary for good health and body building proteins.

For those who wish to economize on their food bill, skim milk may be the answer. It is inexpensive and costs less than fresh skim milk. One advantage of skim milk powder is that it is very convenient. It is easy to measure, and dissolves instantly.

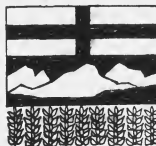

It is also easy to store and requires no refrigeration until it is reliquified. For those who are concerned about calories, skim milk contains approximately half the calories of whole milk. The flavor is said to be much the same as that of fresh skim milk. However, I feel that it is a good idea to reliquify it and chill it in refrigerator in order to obtain a similar flavor.

Skim milk powder makes it possible to get more milk into your meals in an economical and convenient way. It may also be added to various foods not usually made with milk to increase the food value. It is certainly a good idea if one is cooking for an older person who doesn't care for milk.

REMEMBER that Canada's Food Guide recommends two and a half cups of milk for children up to 11 years, 4 cups for adolescents, and one and a half cups for adults.

A free publication on uses of skim milk powder in cooking is available from my office. This booklet contains recipes for desserts, baked products, main dishes, soups and sauces. Should you wish a copy, please do not hesitate to contact me, Box 40, Claresholm. It is called "Skim Milk Powder".

Our Alberta Heritage WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT ALBERTA?

What's different about Alberta? Just about everything, as any proud Albertan will tell you! Where else do you find the unique Chinook, that caressing breeze that coaxes a spring-like balminess out of an ice-locked winter day? Or such a variety of terrain — magnificent mountains, sweeping plains, broad rivers, roaring waterfalls and limpid gem-like lakes. And overhead there's the clean blue sky that gives Albertans more annual sunshine than any point in Canada. We're proud too that visitors take home an impression of "immediacy", the dynamic air of "getting things done" that stems from the enterprise and leadership that are our heritage here in Canada's fastest-moving province — OUR ALBERTA. ## Cancer Crusade Aims For $426,500

The research attack on cancer is the greatest and most costly single undertaking in history of medicine, said M. L. "Fritz" Hanson of Calgary, Alberta, Crusade Chairman for the Canadian Cancer Society.

The 1967 Crusade of the Canadian Cancer Society will get underway April 1st in every community throughout Alberta.

Mr. Hanson announced today the Alberta Cancer Crusade objective is $426,500. The national objective is $4,767,500.

The Crusade slogan, "Fight Cancer With a Check-up and a Cheque" will again be stressed during the drive, which will run for the month of April.

Thousands of volunteers offered to raise funds for the Society's research, education and patient services programs.

Campaign headquarters are located in the following communities: Calgary, Camrose, Crowmest Pass, Drumheller, Grande Prairie, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Peace River, Red Deer, Stettin, Vegreville, Vermilion and Wetaskiwin.

Mr. Hanson said the Alberta Division provided $215,000 for research and fellowship grants to the McEachern Laboratory and the University of Alberta in Edmonton last year. Important research through biochemical investigation into the cause of cancer is conducted at the Alberta Research Unit.

The funds raised by the annual Crusade are vital to the continuance of this work.

Albertans will be asked to provide $238,000 for research and fellowship in 1967.

DON'T SPOIL THE BROTH

It takes all kinds to make a world . . .
The happy souls, the glum ones, too . . .
If we could put folks in a pot
'Twould be just like an Irish stew.

The lazy and ambitious ones,
The fat and thin, the old and young.
Some meek and mild, some filled with spite
So peppery it burns your tongue.

Good humor, warmth and friendliness,
The pleasant things we say and do,
The laughter, merriment and song
All add more savor to the stew.

But harsh, unkindly words and deeds
Like turnips leave a bitter taste.
While nagging, grouching and complaints
Like grisly meat all go to waste.

Too many tears make salty broth
Of which our friends must all partake.
Be careful lest you spoil the stew
And give them all a tummy ache!

WINTER VIEW — A young honeymoon couple stands on shore viewing the ice-clogged river beneath the American Falls at Niagara. Cakes of ice flowing over the Horseshoe and American Falls jam beneath the cataracts each winter to form an "ice bridge." Literature is available from the Chambers of Commerce at Niagara Falls, N. ## A WEEKLY LOOK AT EXPO '67

(By Tracy S. Ludington)

With opening day for Expo '67 drawing closer every minute—the pace of preparation is really accelerating!

February is the short month, and then it's March, and by April 22 the last drop of paint, the final nail, the last sign must be in place for this magnificent extravaganza.

Canadians and particularly those who live in and around Montreal, know that Expo will open on time.

Checking the mail that has come pouring into this column since its advent just a couple of months ago—it is easy for me to figure out that it is the children that are getting excited about Expo first.

From almost every province there are many letters from children—asking detailed questions about Expo, and many of the questions have to do with animals.

Well, for the benefit of these, let me say that a total of 200 animals from five continents will be seen at Expo, on a three-acre lot that will have every appearance of an African plain and jungle.

And at the very centre of Safari, as the acreage is called, — there is a children's section of the zoo where all the animals are young too. Would you believe — you can ride there on a miniature train that winds through elephant grass, under a tropical rain forest, and then across the sun-burnt grass of a game preserve. There will be an opportunity as well to ride elephants, zebras, llamas and camels; and even in a cart pulled by an ostrich.

For true realism, there will be monkeys hanging from trees, as you ride through Safari, a hippopotamus wallowing in a jungle pool, and even a snake pit.

From one bush a stuffed cobra will stare, from another — just above a tree, you may spot the head of a giraffe.

And on the journey you'll encounter gorillas and crocodiles; while overhead there will be an aviary of tropical birds.

So now — for those who have asked about animals — there you are; not all the facts, but enough I hope to keep you coming to Expo.

And if there's more some of you would like to know about the animals — keep your letters coming — glad to get them.

(Address correspondence to Tracy S. Ludington, Expo '67, at 7005 Kildare Road, Montreal 29.)

that further adjustments will be required.

For domestic parcel post there will be a minimum country-wide fee of 15c for parcels up to, 6 ounces in weight and 30c for parcels weighing from 8 ounces to 1 pound. Postage rates for parcels weighing more than 1 pound will be charged according to the zone destination. Other refinements in the parcel post rate structure will be a reduction from the present 9 rate zones to 5; this simplification will streamline wicket service and mail room procedures.

The new zones will be comprised of the Atlantic which will include Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland; the mid-west zone embracing Manitoba and Saskatchewan; the western zone composed of Alberta, British Columbia and the Yukon; the single zones for Ontario and Quebec.

The fee changes and zone modifications will go into effect on October 1st.

Free parcel post insurance — which has been available for indemnity up to $50 — will be discontinued on October 1st. The new insurance rates will be 10c for a $10 coverage, 20c for coverage from $10 to $50, and 30c for coverage from $50 to $100.

Also on October 1st, a new single C.O.D. service charge will cover all aspects of a C.O.D. transaction (collection, remittance and insurance). Fees will be 50c when the amount to be collected is less than $10, and $1.00 when amount to be collected is between $10 and $100.

Registration fee levels will be reduced from 4 to 2; the charges will be 30c for $50 indemnity and 70c for indemnity from $50 to $100. Rates for both of the A.C. Rates for the Receipt cards will be raised by 5c to new rate levels of 15c and 25c. The two schedules of fees will become effective on June 1st.

Domestic rates for Special Delivery will be altered on June 1st also. The fee for letters will be increased from 25c to 40c and for parcels from 35c to 50c.

In the area of third class mail, addressed printed matter will continue to be charged 3c for the first 2 ounces, but subsequent ounces will be subject, as of October 1st, to new higher rates.

Householders mail and samples will also be affected by this rate change.

The adjustments in the domestic rate structure will also be reflected in the rates and fees of some categories of international services.

Mr. Cote concluded his remarks by saying the postmasters across Canada would have the new rate schedules early next week and that revised postal rate charts and brochures would be available shortly.

Flooring Adds Great Deal To Appearance Of Home

The first finishing job which makes the house livable is the flooring. The flooring and properly finished floors add a great deal to the appearance of the house.

Prospective home-owners usually give considerable thought to the flooring to be installed in their new homes. Both hardwood and tile floors collect less dirt and are easier to clean and polish if they are well laid and finished. There are many types of flooring. There is a type of flooring to suit about every taste and purpose.

Some people insist on hardwood flooring, at least in the living and dining rooms, while others prefer resilient flooring in all rooms.

Ceramic tile is popular for bathroom floors. The main species of wood used for flooring are maple, birch and oak, all hardwood. Wood manufacturers grade their lumber according to quality and appearance. Top grade flooring is fairly uniform in color and is virtually free from defects. Medium grades may be just as serviceable, but will contain some knots and blemishes and there will be a larger proportion of short pieces in every load.

Mill-run flooring is a mixture of all unsorted grades exactly as it comes from the mill. Flooring grades for NHA-financed houses are specified in the book "Residential Standards" which is available at any CMHC office.

Because flooring is purposely dried out, care must be taken to keep it free of moisture. It should be nailed in place as soon as possible after delivery to the site. If the lumber contains too much moisture, wide spaces will appear between the boards following shrinkage. Flooring should never be stored in a house that has just been plastered, and if necessary, the heating system should be kept in operation between the time the lumber is delivered and the floor-laying job is completed.

How, you may ask, is hardwood flooring nailed in place? Special flooring nails are normally used to nail the flooring boards to the sub-floor. Nails are driven in at an angle through the tongue which runs along the edge of each board. This is called concealed nailing because the nail heads don't show when the next board is put in place. Ceramic tiles are used mainly for bathroom floors and hallways. The important thing is to lay the tiles so that the finished floor surface is level with the floors in the adjoining room or hallway. Variations between floor levels are both annoying and dangerous.

Resilient flooring is a covering of composition tile or linoleum, and is now standard for surfacing kitchen and bathroom floors. It is also frequently used in other parts of the house. This type of flooring is very easy to install. Unless the sub-floor is made of plywood, an underlay will be required under resilient flooring.

This underlay may be plywood or some other material which has proved satisfactory for the purpose. To avoid bumps in the floor, the joints between the underlay panels should be perfectly smooth. The slightest unevenness will eventually show up on the floor surface. Nailheads should be hammered down flush with the underlay or countersunk slightly.

A soundproof floor must be provided between the upper and lower units of a duplex dwelling. The upper floor should be insulated with a layer of soft textured fibre-board over the sub-flooring to act as a sound buffer between the two units.

Postage Rates To Be Increased

Interim adjustments of a number of postage rates, which will go into effect on June 1st and October 1st, 1967, were announced today by the Postmaster General, the Hon. Jean-Pierre Cote.

He pointed out that the changes did not affect first class mail, but added that as the study of postage rates continued, other adjustments would be necessary to firm up the whole postage rate structure.

Mr. Cote explained that the interim increases are the result of the rising labor and operating costs and the expansion of the postal service required to meet today's postal needs of the public and industry. Although it is estimated that these rate adjustments will yield an additional $15,000,000 in revenue in the fiscal year 1967-68, the Postmaster General added that this will be insufficient to meet current costs and

Measles Vaccine Program To Be Broadened

The Department of Public Health in Edmonton, has released a directive advising all Medical Officers of Health that the Measles vaccination program started early in 1966 is to be broadened to include all pre-school children.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Dominion Council of Health, an accelerated program will be offered for all susceptible children entering school for the first time this year. These children will be given two injections 4 to 6 weeks apart and it is felt this can be accomplished in sufficient time to provide maximum immunity to the disease by September, 1967.

Dr. K. Adler, Medical Officer of Health, therefore recommends that all pre-school children, especially those entering school this fall who have never had Measles be given this free vaccine.

Parents should bring their children to any of the Well Baby Clinics in their respective area at their early convenience.

Car Check Campaign For April, May

The annual campaign to emphasize the importance of vehicle maintenance will again be observed across Canada this year through April and May. Sponsored by the Vehicle Safety Committee of the Canadian Highway Safety Council, the campaign will stress the responsibility of the car owner to maintain his car in safe operating condition.

In introducing the campaign, Keith H. MacDonald, the Council's general chairman, referred to the prominence given in recent months to the "safe car" and to car safety features.

Mr. MacDonald commented — "The safest car in the world would soon become unsafe without proper, regular maintenance."

Owen C. Good, chairman of the Vehicle Safety Committee, said: "The campaign will underline the ability of the car owner to discover potential weaknesses in his car's glass, horn, windshield wipers and washers, lights, turn signals, steering, brakes and exhaust system, and have them repaired before serious damage is done."

The campaign will have strong participation from safety organizations, dealers, service stations and governments.
